Early in 1911 the Model Land Company, a subsidiary of the Florida East Coast Railway Company, offered to the citizens of southern Dade County, a choice of Lots 11, 12, 13, or 14, in Section 33, Township 56, Range 39 South, of Naranja for a cemetery, at a cost of $35.00 per acre.

On October 11, 1911, a committee of five selected Lot 14, which was a ten acre tract. A petition was circulated and about fifty people signed, approving the choice of Lot 14. Almost immediately there began to be some objections to the selection, so another meeting was held on March 23, 1912, at which time Lot 14 was rejected and Lot 11 selected. There were representatives from Homestead, Detroit, Modello, Naranja, Redlands, Silver Palm, Princeton, and Goulds present at that meeting. An association was formed, with a president, secretary, and eight directors (one from each area represented).

A public meeting was held on May 2, 1912, at which time Lot 11 was approved by vote. By the time of that meeting, one interment had already been made near the center of Lot 11.

The association, called the South Dade Cemetery Association, was composed almost entirely of those people who bought lots in the cemetery. Work crews were asked to volunteer their services once a week to make the cemetery more attractive. It was located on high pine land, but the ground was almost solid rock. Early graves had to be opened with dynamite or be axed out. There was no caretaker so friends of the deceased helped with burial preparations.

Frederick S. Morse wrote on May 8, 1912 that the association should incorporate before a deed was made. He also said that the burials made in Homestead should be removed and re-interred in the new location. The burying ground at that time was located on the site where Neva King Cooper School of Homestead now stands. Dr. John B. Tower was the main force in efforts to relocate the cemetery because of the danger of polluting the water supply and the threat of disease as a result.

Apparently there were acquisitions of additional land and improvements made to the property, because in 1936 there was an existing mortgage amounting to approximately $2,500.00, held by the Homestead Building and Loan Association. It could be paid off at less than $.50 on the dollar. Within a year, through the efforts of the Homestead Rotary Club and the Redland District Lions Club, sufficient lots were sold to pay off the mortgage. Graves were sold for $12.50 each or a 10' x 20' space for $50.00, which was large enough for 4 graves.

A full time sexton was hired in October 1937, who would be responsible for opening and closing of graves and care of the grounds. A committee was appointed to audit the books. At that same time, the Board of County Commissioners promised to build roads and pathways, and send shrubs and ornamental trees from the county nursery for beautification.

In 1956, title to the cemetery, plus an additional 30 acres was purchased by Philip L. Coleman, under the name of South Dade Palms Memorial Park, Inc. of Miami. The property was to be re-developed with new roads and an entrance. It was to be completely landscaped, with a sunken garden, and plans were made to build a mausoleum.

The first phase of the mausoleum opened in 1961.

Woodlawn Park Cemeteries purchased Palms Memorial Park in 1995, and a new funeral home was built in 1997.

There are about 11,000 burials in the cemetery, including those in the mausoleums.

PALMS MEMORIAL CEMETERY

Palms Cemetery is one of the oldest in Dade County, having been established in 1912 on a ten acre tract in Naranja, in south Dade County.

The cemetery began with an initial purchase of 10 acres and now includes about 50 acres. There are about 11,000 burials including those in the mausoleums.

This index is a complete listing of burials, with grave locations. Several of the records have an asterisk * in place of the grave location. Unfortunately, there is no information about those people in the cemetery records. They were included in the index because their obituaries stated that burial would be at Palms.

The in-ground burials begin on page 1 through page 180 and the mausoleum interments follow beginning on page 1 through page 10.

The following page is a map of the cemetery copied from the HOMESTEAD BANNER in the May 30, 1913 edition.
